

2008
CAMINS DEL PRIORAT

Wet and red flint and cold and bright granite float on a soft bed of red carnations with green stems and cherries which reflect the cold light of this cool and whimsical year.

Cocoa with currants, French lavender, open red orange and sugar lump.

In mouth, a mixture of plums, morello cherries and pomegranate water make our taste shudder when they all get mixed with a gentle cream of vanilla with touches of mint, cinnamon and almond.

How silky, how soft, what a subtle tact which caresses our mouth by impregnating it with flavors and memories of nature and crafts, of the sunny rocks of the Priorat and the mystical tradition of an impossible crop.

The Mediterranean sea gathers in the glass not only with the fruit flesh and the low mount but also with the foam of the persistent and freezing iodine waves.

Versatile, kind, ready to break the time and highlight the emotion of the most delicious moments of an ordinary day
